BOYD'S GREAT PITCHING DID IT.

He Held the Lynchburg Batters Down to One Hit.

The Magicians Won an Exciting Game Yesterday From the Hill Climbers-It Was a Battle Between Pitchers-Moran Was Also Very Effective-Both Sides Played a Ragged Fielding Game

LYNCHBURG, Sept. 12 .- Two splendid pitchers struggled with each other for the victory on the ball field in Rivermont this afternoon, and both Moran and Boyd did the finest sort of work. Moran, great as he has proven himself in the box since he has been with the Lynchburgs, excelled his own record this afternoon. He struck out sixteen men, a figure that has been reached by no other pitcher in the league this year, and allowed only five hits to be made off of him. It was truly a case of hard luck that his game should have been lost after he made such a showing.

been lost after he made such a showing.

The pitcher confronted by the Lynchburg batters was no less effective than his adversary. Boyd was in elegant form, and of the many great games he has pitched here, none was better than that of to-day. He did not strike out as many men as Moran, but the Lynchburgers could do nothing with his balls, and only one solitary hit was made off him in the nine innings.

The support of both the twirlers was not what either of them deserved. The fielding as a rule was heavy and ragged.

two runs.

Lynchburg: made one of her runs in the second inning, Childs crossing the plate. Childs was also credited with the 5ther run, which was made in the third. Up to this point the score was a blank for Roanoke.

In the third Crockett's ball to first was fumbled by McClosky. McCoy hit to left and made second on Meara's error. Crockett scoring. In the fourth, with two men out, McHooveter sent a ball to second, which went squarely between tisey's legs. Morgan took a base on balls. second, which went squarely between Eisey's legs. Morgan took a base on balls. Cavanaugh hit to left and Mc-Heoveter came home while Meara was executing a Chinese dance around the ball in left field. This tied the score. In the fifth McCoy bit a hot one that was too much for Elsey. Violet and Boyd struck out. Daniel made a hit to short, and Maginnis' long bit to right scored McCoy. Daniel and Maginnis came in on McHooveter's two bagger. Blanks were made by both sides in the remaining four innings. Webster was the last man at the bat for Lynchburg in the ninth. As he went up to the plate he was presented with a bouquet of weeds in compliment of his failure to find the ball. The popular catcher laughed and read on the card attached to the bouquet, these words: "From one of your old college chums."

Where They Play To-Day Lynchburg at Rosnoke. Norfolk at Petersburg. Newport-Hampton at Richmond.

Notes. The Roanoke team will return home this morning and wind up the season by playing the rest of this week with Lynchburg. These three games will be Lynchburg. These three games will be very important ones as far as Roanoke is concerned, for they will decide whether or not the Magicians shall occupy last place. If the home team succeeds in winning one game of the three they will be able to retain their present position in the race.

Both teams will strain every nerve to bring victory to their respective sides by the end and the contests will probably be the most exciting of any played here this season. A large crowd should witness each game. President Smith is en-deavoring to secure the services of Thompson who played in Roanoke last season and he will probably participate in the remaining games. #### A PRETTY WEDDING.

Miss Salile Rowan Crawford and John Emanuel Reichardt United in Marriage.

The solemnization of the nuptials of Miss Sallie Rowan Crawford and John Emanuel Reichardt, at St. John's Episcopal Church at half-past 10 o'clock yesterday morning, was one of the prettiest church marriages that has ever been witnessed in this city. Long be-fore the appointed hour the beautiful auditorium, which was tastily decorated auditorium, which was tastily decorated with evergreens, was comfortably filled with the friends of the contracting parties, and at 10:30, while the melodious strains of Wagner's wedding march from "Lohengrin," skillfully executed by the organist, Mrs. P. C. Leary, filled the church, the bride, dressed in a handsome gray traveling suit, entered on the arm of her brother, William Crawford, and was met at the altar by the groom, with his best man, De Los Thomas, where the marriage was performed according to the beauti-

GOV. O'FERRALL'S PLAIN TALK.

He Denounces Ida Wells and Her Doctrines.

Refuses to Address the Afro-American Press Association Because They Endorsed Her Utterances—He is Opposed to Lynch Law and Points Out a Remedy For It.

RICHMOND, Sept. 12 .- In answer to an invitation to address the Afro-American Press Association, in session here, Gov. Charles T. O'Ferrall to-day wrote as

"GOVERNOR'S OFFICE,
"RICHMOND, VA., Sept. 12, 1894.
"Messrs. John Mitchell, W. Calvin
Chase and John C. Daney, Committee of Afro-American Press Association,

"DEAR SIRS: In response to your invitation to address or attend the convention of the Afro-American Press Association, now in session in this city,
I beg to say I would not think of accepting an invitation to address any convention or assembly that indorses, as your convention did last evening, the course of Ida Wells in her slanders of the people and the civil authorities of the South.

"I condemn lynch law as much as any

the South.

"I condemn lynch law as much as any one, and as long as I am governor of Virginia every man, whether white or colored, whatever the charge against him may be, shall have a trial by judge and jury, if I have to exert all the power given me by the constitution and laws of Virginia, and should any case of lynching occur I shall endeavor to enforce the law against the lynchers; but it strikes me that the action of your convention in indorsing the misrepresentations and slanderous utterances of Ida Wells is calculated to do harm rather than good, and intensify, rather

Ida Wells is calculated to do harm rather than good, and intensity, rather than mollify, the spirit of violence which so frequently manifests itself, not only in Virginia, but throughout the South, when a certain crime is committed.

"The brutes who commit this crime, too horrible to mention, and are summarily dealt with, seem to elicit sympathy from Ida Wells and her supporters, as though they were murdered innocents, while nowa word of sympathy is expressed for their victims, who have suffered more than death.

is expressed for their victims, who have suffered more than death.

"I believe that if your convention would condemn the crime which has caused all the lynchings in the South, with rare exceptions, and the leaders of the colored people would frown upon it and cry outagainst it, and not exert their energies and devote their time to a denunciation of the lynchings, there would be fewer outrages, and, if so, certainly fewer instances of mob violence.

certainly fewer instances of mob vio-lence.

"I do not know, but it looks very much to me as though the work of Ida Wells was a deep laid scheme to check as far as may be the progress of the South, and every good citizen, white and colored, should feel an interest in refut-ing her villifications rather than sanc-tioning them. as your convention did ing her villifications rather than sanctioning them, as your convention did last evening. She and her supporters certainly stirred up a feeling against her own race which did not exist prior to her crusade. The people of the South, who have labored so assiduously for nearly a generation now to recuperate and build up their waste places will not take kindly to the effort which this woman and her followers are making to bring reproach upon their section, and create the impression that it is a land of lawlessness and disorder.

"I have most friendly feeling for the colored people. They have my sympathies in all their struggles and laudable undertakings, as I think I have shown in my private and public life, and I was indeed deeply pained when I read this morning that your convention, composed of representatives of your race, had struck the South a blow which she did not deserve.

'I have stated emphatically all along that this nigger does not want to fight me. After the punching I gave him in San Francisco, where he was saved from defeat by the dastardly actions of his California club friends, you could not get him into the ring with me with a hawser and no one knows it better than this same Peter Jackson.

'He has stated that he would not go south of Mason and Dixon's line on account of prejudice existing against his color; he has thrown slurs upon the fairest people in the South, the Southerners, who gave George Dixon fair play there. He also says: "In conclusion, Mr. Peter Jackson, I tell you plainly that I will fight you privately, openly, in one week, one month, two months, or three months time for as much money as you can raise, purse or no purse, in a club, on a barge, in a hack, in a room, anywhere in America.

The Effect of the Southern Railroad Reorganization.

Opinions of Leading Bankers-They All Agree That This Will Prove a Powerful Factor in Developing the South and Increasing Its Prosperity in Every Direction.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 12 .- Eight bank presidents, including heads of banking houses, in New York, Baltimore, Atlanta, Birmingham, Richmond, Savannah and Norfolk, gave opinions in the Manufacturer's Record this week of the effect of the Southern railroad reorganization on the future of the South. The financial editors of leading dailies in New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore have written letters to the Record on the same subject. All agree that this will prove a powerful factor in developing the South and increasing its pros-ing the South and increasing its prosperity in every direction.

Watson & Gibson, of New York, say:
"The Southern Railway Company is a superior creation to its predecessors, and will do good to the South as the
